Copyright and Licensing Terms

Authors who publish in JIS agree to the following terms:

1. Authors retain copyright and grant the journal right of first publication with the work simultaneously licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution License \(CC-BY 4.0\) that allows others to share the work with an acknowledgement of the work's authorship and initial publication in this journal.
2. Authors are able to enter into separate, additional contractual arrangements for the non-exclusive distribution of the journal's published version of the work (e.g., post it to an institutional repository or publish it in a book), with an acknowledgement of its initial publication in this journal.
3. Authors grant the publisher the right to deposit this work in an electronic archive or institutional repository system for long term preservation at some future date.

Types of publication accepted

JIS accepts:

a) Research Articles

Articles must be between 6,000 and 10,000 words, including footnotes.

b) Book Reviews and Discussions

Book reviews should be between 1,000-2,000 words.

Book discussion implies at least 3 reviews on the same book, with an answer by the author.

c) Symposium

A symposium means at least three shorter articles that can be more exploratory, accompanied by an introduction.

d) Special issues

A special issue means at least three research articles linked thematically, accompanied by an introduction.

Submission

Each submission should be composed of:

1. A title page comprising:
 - Article's title
 - Full name, institutional address and email of the author(s)
 - Abstract (between 100 and 200 words)
 - 5 keywords
 - Number of signs, graphs and tables
 - Statement of Conflict of Interest
 - Funding
2. The article in word document
3. Additional file with graphs, tables, or visuals

Double-blinded Peer Review

The journal uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). All files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized. The title page will not be accessible to the referee(s).

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted.

Quotations

Quotations of more than four lines, which will be set as indented text in smaller type and line spacing, should not be preceded and followed by quotation marks, and should be double-spaced. American style uses double quotation marks for the first level of quotation and single quotation marks for quotations within quotations. Punctuation appears within the quotation marks.

Figures

Illustrations and photos should be submitted in TIFF or PNG format, scaled at 100%, with a resolution at least 300 dpi (600 dpi is preferred). Number the files and clearly mark the spot where the photo should be inserted ("insert ill. 2"). Provide the figure captions at the very end of the article.

Style conventions

The journal uses the American spelling (-'ize', not -'ise', 'center', not 'centre')

All non-English words should be in italic script, and along with all non-English names, they should be spelled with accents and diacritical marks included.

All numbers greater than 10 should be expressed in numerical form rather than in words.

Please use symbols for %, $, € and £.

An ellipsis (...) within continuous text is usually indicated by three points, a fourth should be added at the end if the ellipsis finishes a sentence.

Abbreviations should be given in full at first mention, followed by the abbreviation in brackets.

Please give all organizations, political parties etc, in original language at first mention.

Referencing

JIS follows the Chicago/Turabian system for formatting and citations. For more details and many more examples, see chapter 14 of The Chicago Manual of Style.

Fees for Services

The Journal of Illiberalism Studies (JIS) does NOT charge submission fees, article processing fees, or any other type of charge for publication or submission.
